

Chakra Balance - Energetic

Three Pine Trees

Chakras – energetic balance.

This tree essence is the chakra essence for the energetic aspects of the chakras. It is made up of three pine trees, of three different varieties of pine, and located at varying distances from the front porch of my house.

The three trees can be visually lined up in a straight line, if one moves into the correct position, and this symbolizes all of the energies of all the chakras being in perfect balance and alignment.

Affirmation: “I now bring my chakra energies into perfect balance and alignment.”
